DIRECTIONS: In Salmon, from US 93/ID 28 intersection, SE on ID 28 for 1 mi; watch for a prominent sign directing a L turn into the Center's parking area.

The Sacajawea Interpretive, Cultural, and Education Center offers birders of all ability easy access to the Lemhi River and adjacent floodplains, which feature towering black cottonwood forests, grassy meadows, a cattail marsh, and a perennial natural spring. Cross-country skiing is available in the winter and provides an opportunity to view Bald Eagle along the river. Red-tailed Hawk, Great Blue Heron, Great Horned Owl, and American Dipper can be seen year-round. In addition, Sora (April-Oct), Sandhill Crane (April-Oct), Killdeer, Spotted Sandpiper, Wilson's Snipe (March-Nov), Common Grackle (May-Sept), and Bohemian Waxwing (Dec-Feb) can be found along the river and around the Center.
