Executive Summary

2020 Sample and Survey

To better understand views of Idaho wild turkey hunters and inform management guidance for a statewide wild turkey management plan, the Department conducted an opinion survey of wild turkey tag buyers during June 2020 (Appendix A). The sampling frame for this opinion survey was comprised of individuals who purchased a wild turkey tag from 2016 to 2020, and for whom the Department had a valid email address. The sampling frame was defined as:

- Anyone (i.e., resident and nonresident) who purchased a wild turkey tag during 2016–2020;
- Anyone who was 18 or older at the time of license purchase; and
- Anyone who had provided an email address to the Department.

An email invitation to participate in the survey was sent to nearly 43,000 wild turkey tag buyers; this was followed by 2 reminder emails requesting participation. In total, 6,944 questionnaires were returned; the effective response rate for this effort was 16%. The margin of sampling error for the 2020 Wild Turkey Hunter Opinion Survey was +/-1.5% (at a 99% confidence level). No nonresponse follow-up survey was conducted. We reviewed data from the 2020 wild turkey hunter opinion survey prior to analyses to remove inconsistent responses. For example, if respondents answered that they had not hunted during previous hunting seasons, we removed all responses on questions related to their participation in hunting seasons. In addition, if respondents did not correctly answer ranking questions (e.g., used a rank multiple times) these answers were excluded from the analysis.

This report summarizes the results of the 2020 wild turkey hunter opinion survey.

Mean age of respondents who said they hunted was 49.2 years, and 93% were male. Nearly 88% of respondents hunted wild turkeys in Idaho within the last 5 years, and almost one-half of respondents hunted wild turkeys in Idaho < 5 years. Just under 7% of respondents reported membership in NWTF.

Respondents identified spring general seasons as the most preferred (72.4% listed as favorite) wild turkey hunting opportunity; 58% participated in spring 2020 seasons, whereas 54% participated in fall 2019 seasons. On average, hunters spent 5.24 days hunting wild turkeys during spring 2020 seasons and 5.02 days hunting during fall 2019 seasons. Most wild turkey hunters hunt in Southwest (32%), Clearwater (29%), and Panhandle (24%) regions. Although Clearwater Region hosts 29% of Idaho wild turkey hunters, only 19% reside there; 40% claim residence in Southwest Region and 21% in Panhandle Region. When asked to rate overall quality of their spring wild turkey hunting experience, >70% of hunters reported good to excellent hunting. Sixty-three percent of spring wild turkey hunters primarily hunted on public land in Idaho. Nearly 33% primarily hunted private lands without a fee, and 1.8% primarily hunted Access Yes! properties.

Importance ratings of hunt-specific experiences suggested "access to public lands" and "hearing turkeys" were the two most important experiences for spring wild turkey hunters; "hiring a licensed guide" was least important. Other factors considered very important by hunters were to "see turkeys," "not be interfered with by other hunters," and "call turkeys in."

When asked to rate overall quality of their fall wild turkey hunting experience, >70% of hunters reported good to excellent hunting. Nearly 52% of fall wild turkey hunters primarily hunted on public land in Idaho. Just over 44% primarily hunted private lands without a fee, and 1.3% primarily hunted Access Yes! properties.

The two most important experiences for fall wild turkey hunters were "access to public lands" and "seeing turkeys"; "hiring a licensed guide" was least important. Hunters also placed importance on being able to "hear turkeys" and "not be interfered with by other hunters."

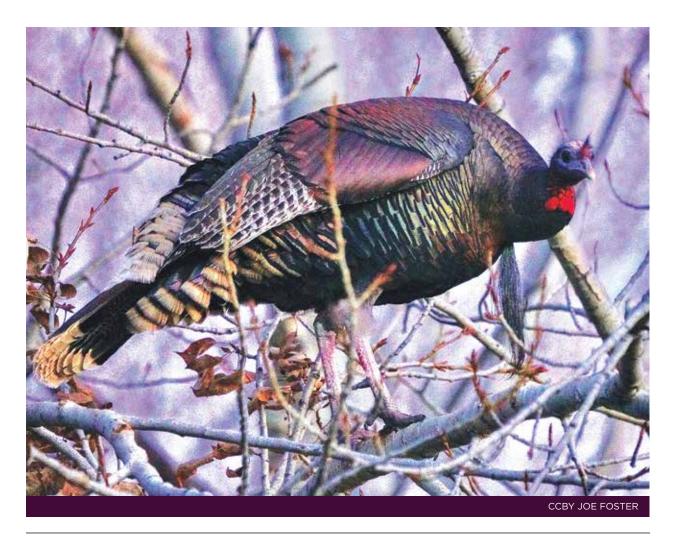

When asked about importance of a variety of management activities, wild turkey hunters identified "providing spring hunting opportunities" and "providing youth hunting opportunities" as the two highest priorities on which the Department should focus. Improving habitat on public lands was also identified as a very important management activity. "Conducting classes on how to hunt wild turkey" was the least important management activity.

Question 17 - How IMPORTANT are the following experiences to your Idaho SPRING turkey hunting experience?

Survey respondents were asked to identify how important each of the below attributes were to their hunting experience (where 1 = not at all important and 5 = extremely important). Survey respondents identified "access to public lands" and "hearing turkeys" as the two most important attributes to their spring wild turkey hunting experience; "hiring a licensed guide" was least important. Other factors considered very important by survey respondents were "seeing turkeys," "not being interfered with by other hunters," and "calling turkeys in."

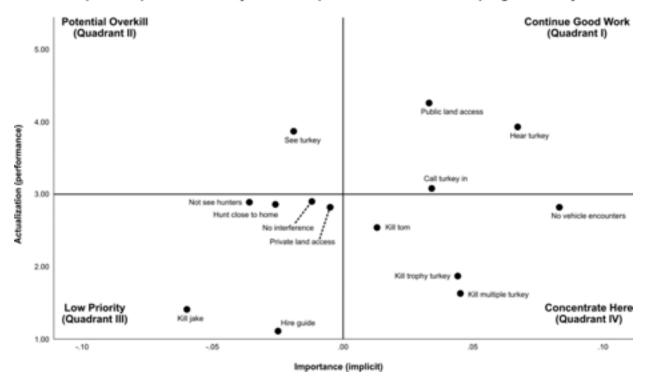

Attribute	Mean	SD	Rank
Access to public lands	4.57	0.83	1
Hearing turkeys	4.34	0.76	2
Seeing turkeys	4.24	0.79	3
Not being interfered with by other hunters	4.13	1.03	4
Calling turkeys in	4.02	0.95	5
Not encountering off-road vehicles	3.70	1.30	6
Not seeing other hunters	3.54	1.14	7
Killing a tom	3.48	1.10	8
Access to private lands	3.19	1.38	9
Hunting close to home or cabin	2.57	1.31	10
Killing a trophy turkey	2.47	1.24	11
Killing a jake	2.37	1.13	12
Killing multiple turkeys	2.26	1.23	13
Hunting with an outfitter/guide	1.15	0.58	14

Question 18 - To what extent did each actually HAPPEN during your SPRING 2020 Idaho turkey hunting season?

Survey respondents were asked to identify to what extent they experienced each of the below attributes during their hunt (where 1 = not at all and 5 = very much). Survey respondents identified "have access to public lands" and "hear turkeys" as the two most important attributes they actually experienced during the spring 2020 turkey hunting season; "hunt with and outfitter/guide" was least important. Other important attributes experienced by survey respondents were "see turkeys," "not be interfered with by other hunters," and "call turkeys in." What hunters encountered during spring 2020 turkey hunting seasons aligned quite well with the attributes identified as important to their hunting experience in Question 17.

Attribute	Mean	SD	Rank
Have access to public lands	4.26	1.14	1
Hear turkeys	3.93	1.18	2
See turkeys	3.87	1.15	3
Call turkeys in	3.08	1.43	4
Not be interfered with by other hunters	2.90	1.51	5
Not see other hunters	2.89	1.39	6
Hunt close to home or cabin	2.86	1.49	7
Not encounter off-road vehicles	2.82	1.47	8
Have access to private lands	2.82	1.66	9
Kill a tom	2.54	1.83	10
Kill a trophy turkey	1.87	1.43	11
Kill multiple turkeys	1.63	1.34	12
Kill a jake	1.41	1.09	13
Hunt with an outfitter/guide	1.11	0.57	14

Implicit importance is partial correlation between satisfaction and natural logarithm for performance on experience, controlling for natural log of other experiences. Performance is actualization of experiences during the spring 2020 turkey season based on response to the question "did it happen?" with responses ranging from 1 (not at all) to 5 (very much). Four experiences fell in the "concentrate here" quadrant: "no vehicle encounters," kill multiple turkeys," "kill trophy turkey," and "kill tom."

Question 27 - How would you rate the overall quality of your wild turkey hunting experience during the FALL 2019 season?

When asked to rate overall quality of their fall 2019 wild turkey hunting experience, 72% of survey respondents who hunted turkeys reported good to excellent hunting.

Response	Number	Total	Percentage	SE
Poor	103	1136	9.1	0.9
Fair	216	1136	19.0	1.2
Good	413	1136	36.4	1.4
Very Good	234	1136	20.6	1.2
Excellent	170	1136	15.0	1.1

Question 28 - How IMPORTANT are the following experiences to your Idaho FALL turkey hunting experience?

Survey respondents were asked to identify how important each of the below attributes were to their hunting experience (where 1 = not at all important and 5 = extremely important). Survey respondents identified "access to public lands" and "seeing turkeys" as the two most important attributes to their fall wild turkey hunting experience; "hiring a licensed guide" was least important. Other factors considered very important by survey respondents were "not being interfered with by other hunters," "hearing turkeys," and "access to private lands."

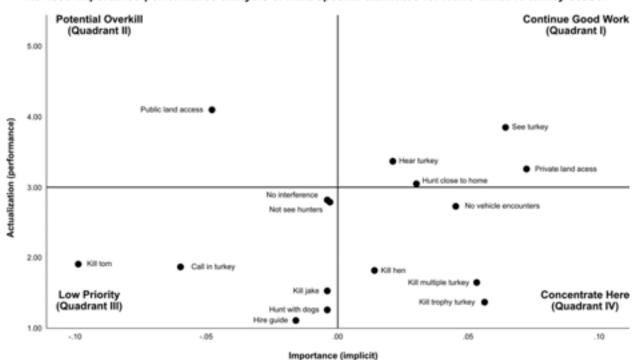

Attribute	Mean	SD	Rank
Access to public lands	4.38	1.02	1
Seeing turkeys	4.18	0.85	2
Not being interfered with	3.89	1.20	3
Hearing turkeys	3.63	1.13	4
Access to private lands	3.44	1.39	5
Not encountering off-road vehicles	3.43	1.44	6

Hunting close to home/cabin	2.93	1.42	8
Killing a tom	2.83	1.28	9
Calling turkeys in	2.79	1.33	10
Killing multiple turkeys	2.34	1.36	11
Killing a jake	2.24	1.15	12
Killing a hen	2.15	1.19	13
Killing a trophy	2.10	1.25	14
Hunting with a dog	1.42	1.00	15
Hiring a guide	1.14	0.6	16

Question 29 - To what extent did each actually HAPPEN during your FALL 2019 Idaho turkey hunting season?

Survey respondents were asked to identify to what extent they experienced each of the below attributes during their hunt (where 1 = not at all and 5 = very much). Survey respondents identified "have access to public lands" and "see turkeys" as the two most important attributes they actually experienced during the fall 2019 turkey hunting season; "hunt with an outfitter/guide" was least important. Other important attributes experienced by survey respondents were "hear turkeys," "have access to private lands," and "hunt close to home/cabin." What hunters encountered during fall 2019 turkey hunting seasons aligned quite well with the attributes they identified as important to their hunting experience in Question 28; however, it appears "hunt close to home" was more important to fall turkey hunters than spring turkey hunters.

Attribute	Mean	SD	Rank
Access to public lands	4.10	1.27	1
See turkeys	3.85	1.12	2
Hear turkeys	3.37	1.32	3
Access to private lands	3.26	1.60	4

Killing a hen	1.82	1.44	11
Killing multiple turkeys	1.65	1.31	12
Killing a jake	1.53	1.16	13
Killing a trophy	1.37	1.00	14
Hunting with a dog	1.26	0.87	15
Hiring a guide	1.11	0.56	16

Implicit importance is partial correlation between satisfaction and natural logarithm for performance on experience, controlling for natural log of other experiences. Performance is actualization of experiences during the fall 2019 turkey season based on response to the question "did it happen?" with responses ranging from 1 (not at all) to 5 (very much). Four experiences fell in the "concentrate here" quadrant: "no vehicle encounters," kill multiple turkeys," "kill trophy turkey," and "kill hen."

Too high	442	4947	8.9	0.4
Way too high	201	4947	4.1	0.3

Question 32 - In thinking about the areas you hunt for turkey, at what level do you think the turkey population should be managed? (Please check one.)

Respondents most frequently reported the level at which the turkey population in the area they most often hunt was "no change – population is at a good level." This was followed by "increase population 25%" and "increase population 10%."

Level	Number	Total	Percentage	SE
Decrease Population 50% or more (Significant)	173	4941	3.5	0.3
Decrease Population 25% (Moderate)	337	4941	6.8	0.4
Decrease Population 10% (Slight)	270	4941	5.5	0.3

Increase Population 25% (Moderate)	966	4941	19.6	0.6
Increase Population 50% or more (Significant)	439	4941	8.9	0.4

Question 33 - If there were more turkeys available to hunt close to where you live, how likely is it that you would hunt them? (Please check one.)

Over 76% of respondents reported they would hunt turkeys if there were more turkeys available close to where they live.

Response	Number	Total	Percentage	SE
Very Unlikely	326	4960	6.6	0.4
Unlikely	114	4960	2.3	0.2

Very Likely	2634	4960	53.1	0.7

Question 34 - If a winter turkey hunting season was available (December-March), how likely is it that you would participate? (Please check one.)

Over 62% of respondents reported they would participate in a winter (December-March) turkey hunting season if the opportunity were available.

Response	Number	Total	Percentage	SE
Very Unlikely	634	4970	12.8	0.5
Unlikely	527	4970	10.6	0.4
Neutral	716	4970	14.4	0.5

Very Likely	1605	4970	32.3	0.7

Question 35 - Would you support a winter turkey hunting season if it allowed harvest of the following?

Survey respondents were most supportive of winter turkey seasons that allowed harvest of either "bearded turkeys" or "any turkey;" however, mean responses were close to neutral (3.0) for each option, which may suggest turkey hunters are indifferent to the type of turkey taken during winter hunting opportunities.

Response	Mean	SD
Only bearded turkeys	3.24	1.50
Only beardless turkeys	2.90	1.46
Any turkey	3.20	1.59

Question 36 - In general, turkey nuisance complaints occur in the fall and winter when turkeys are concentrated on wintering grounds. In areas where this occurs, what solutions do you support to reduce the overabundance of turkeys? (Check all that apply)

Over 50% of survey respondents supported "winter hunting seasons," "trap and move turkeys to other areas of Idaho," and "allow either sex hunting in the fall/winter" as solutions to turkey nuisance complaints on wintering grounds. "Trap and move turkeys to another state" was the least supported solution.

Solution	Number	Total	Percentage	SE
Add winter hunting season	3045	4935	61.7	0.7
Trap and move turkeys to other areas of Idaho with lower number of turkeys	2562	4935	51.9	0.7

Question 37 - Please rate the LEVEL OF IMPORTANCE you believe IDFG SHOULD PLACE on each of the following activities:

Survey respondents were asked to rate the level of importance they believed IDFG should place on the attributes they experienced during their hunt (where 1 = not at all important and 5 = extremely important). Survey respondents identified "spring hunting" and "youth hunting" as the two most important activities on which the Department should focus; "conducting classes" was least important.

Activity	Mean	SD	Rank
Providing spring hunting opportunities	4.25	0.86	1
Providing youth hunting opportunities	4.12	0.99	2
Improving/enhancing habitat on public lands	3.95	1.15	3
