DIRECTOR SCHRIEVER'S OPEN LETTER TO THE HUNTERS, ANGLERS AND TRAPPERS OF IDAHO

It is my honor to be the director of Idaho Fish and Game, and my priority is to maintain Idaho's high-quality hunting, fishing and trapping opportunities.

Our migratory game bird hunting, whether it's hunting doves and sandhill cranes in September, ducks in October or snow geese in March, provide diverse opportunities with long seasons and ample bird populations.

Rules and seasons for migratory game bird hunting have traditionally been generous and fairly consistent over the last 20 years, but there are some annual changes, and the 2020-21 season is no different.

- Idaho will hold a new swan hunting season in 2020. A limit of 50 tags will be available to hunters on a first-come, first-served basis starting August 1 for a fall hunt in Benewah, Bonner, Boundary, and Kootenai counties only.
- Veterans and active duty military can participate in a special two-day hunt in 2020, which will coincide with the traditional youth waterfowl hunting day on September 26-27.
- Hunters in some areas of the state will be able to hunt ducks and Canada geese through January 31, which will shift some opening dates later, because under federal rules the total season cannot exceed 107 days.

Otherwise, rules and seasons are very similar to recent years, and overall, hunters can look forward to healthy populations of migratory birds, which include doves, ducks, geese, sandhill cranes, Wilson's snipe, coots, and American crows. Most of these species are found statewide, so everyone has a chance to hunt them.

Hunters can pursue most of these birds with a hunting license, migratory bird permit, and a waterfowl stamp for ducks and geese. Exceptions include sandhill cranes and swans, where a tag is required, and a limited number are available at license and tag vendors on a first-come, first-served basis starting August 1.

Aside from a great variety of opportunity, migratory game birds are a good way to introduce people to hunting. New hunters of all ages can take advantage of Idaho Fish and Game's "Passport Program," which is a simple, low-cost way for newcomers to try mentored hunting under these stipulations:

- Hunting Passports are only available to first-time hunters. Passport Holders will need a Federal Duck Stamp if they are 16 years or older. Those who have previously held a hunting license in any state are not eligible.
- Hunter Education certification is not needed to obtain a Hunting Passport. If an individual has completed a Hunter Education course, but has not yet purchased a license, they are eligible for a Hunting Passport.
- The minimum age to hold a Hunting Passport is eight years old; there is no maximum age.
- Hunting Passports are available at license vendors and Fish and Game regional offices for $1.75.
- Youth ages 8 and 9 years old can possess a Hunting Passport each year until they turn 10, but anyone who is 10 or older can only possess one Hunting Passport.

You can see more details about the Passport Program at idfg.idaho.gov/hunt/passport.

Finally, Idaho is a diverse state with different latitudes, elevations and climates, which means it can be challenging to time seasons to coincide with bird migrations. Unlike other game animals in Idaho, migratory game bird rules and season frameworks are set by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service after consulting with state fish and wildlife agencies. The outside dates or bounds for seasons are based on international treaties, and Idaho must set its seasons within those federal guidelines.

Idaho has traditionally opted toward the most generous bag limits and longest seasons within those guidelines, and it strives to provide hunters access to as much hunting opportunity as possible during peak migration times.

Enjoy migratory bird hunting, and thank you for supporting Idaho Fish and Game and wildlife conservation in Idaho. I wish you great hunting, fishing and trapping in 2020 and beyond.

Idaho Wildlife Policy

“All wildlife, including all wild animals, wild birds, and fish, within the state of Idaho, is hereby declared to be the property of the state of Idaho. It shall be preserved, protected, perpetuated, and managed. It shall be only captured or taken at such times or places, under such conditions, or by such means, or in such manner, as will preserve, protect, and perpetuate such wildlife, and provide for the citizens of this state and, as by law permitted to others, continued supplies of such wildlife for hunting, fishing and trapping.”

GETTING STARTED

To use this brochure:

Hunting seasons and rules for all ducks, geese, swan, sandhill crane, doves, and crow are available in this brochure.

To get started:

- Pick the species and area you want to hunt, then refer to the section on that bird.
- Season and limit pages include maps for each hunting area.

Page 8: Duck, snipe and coot seasons, limits and areas.

Pages 9-11: Goose seasons, limits and areas.

Pages 12: Swan seasons, limits and areas.

Page 13: Mourning dove and crow seasons and limits

Page 14: Sandhill crane seasons and limits.

Pages 24-34: Detailed rules and related information.

It is the responsibility of the hunter to become familiar with the rules that affect the hunt in which he or she is participating.

Seasons and rules may change after a brochure is printed.

Changes or corrections are posted online at idfg.idaho.gov/rules.

Remember!

Waterfowl hunters are required to possess/use:

- A valid Idaho hunting license or hunting passport.
- Migratory Bird (HIP) Permit.
- Federal Migratory Bird (Duck) Stamp for all hunters 16 years or older.
- Nontoxic shot.

License holder must validate stamp by signing across the front in ink.

Youth and Veterans/Active Military Waterfowl Hunting Weekend

There is no better way to introduce a new hunter to the safe, ethical and responsible aspects of hunting than with the close supervision of a qualified adult mentor.

- New for 2020: Veterans and active military personnel are eligible to participate in this hunt. Check idfg.idaho.gov prior to the hunt for details on veterans and active military personnel eligibility.
- Open to licensed hunters 17 years of age and younger.
- Duck, goose, snipe, and coot seasons are open for two days only, on September 26-27, 2020.
- Migratory Bird (HIP) Permit—required.
- Federal Migratory Bird (Duck) Stamp—not required for hunters 15 and younger.
- Daily duck, goose, snipe, and coot limits are the same as regular season limits statewide.
- At least one adult 18 years or older with a valid hunting license must accompany each youth hunting party into the field at all times. Adults are not authorized to hunt; however, veterans and active military personnel may now hunt and harvest; migratory bird (HIP) permit and Federal Migratory Bird (Duck) stamp required.
- All other state rules and federal regulations pertaining to take of migratory game birds are in effect for this hunt.
